

Apparently Only Certain Deaths Worthy Of Nazarene Reflection

Here's another example of President Obama's massive campaign to stop all criticism in the press of the rampant fraud and corruption that has gone on during his administration. 47 Inspector's General sent a letter to both the House and Senate Government Reform Committees and asked for their help to stop the Obama Administration from blocking their access to data in a variety of federal agencies.

This should have been a huge story but it also received very little coverage from the mainstream media.

During the Bush years when I would go on national television on a regular basis and complain about their policies, I never would have dreamed federal policies for small business would become so devastating during the Obama Administration and that it would be next to impossible to get on national television to expose it.

At lease I have the satisfaction of knowing the Obama Administration will go down in history as the least transparent administrations in history and Barack Obama will go down as the most anti-small business President in history.
